G. W. GUNNERS WIN 2 TROPHIES

National Defense and Merit Trophies Go to G. A. Company

COMPANY TO ENLIST NON-G. W. MEN

Hope To Organize Second Company—Next Trip February 10, To Fort Washington

The George Washington Coast Artillery Company, officially the First Company Coast Artillery, N. G. D. C., is now the crack company in the local militia service, according to the officials in charge. The Company holds the highest figure of merit in the District Guard, and as a consequence has won the National Defense Trophy, and the Figure of Merit Trophy. Eleven qualifications in the "marksman special course A" for the coast artillery of the United States Army were also made by this Company, giving it more special officers than any other company in the District Guard.

Company Leads in Marksmanship
Regular trips to local and National Guard rifle ranges brought the marksmanship of the company to a high standard, and it leads in the number of accurate riflemen, having six experts, 19 sharpshooters, 24 marksmen, eight first-class, and six second-class riflemen in the organization. Captain A. C. Thompson, U. S. A., inspector-instructor, is highly elated with the fine showing the Company is making.

Officers Want Battalion

The officers of this Company are anxious to see a battalion organized in the District, so they have decided to open the doors of the G. W. Company to desirable men who wish to enlist, who will be taken into the present Company in anticipation of the formation of the second company. Those men who qualify in the different examinations will be prepared to take commissioned and non-commissioned officers' positions in the new companies when formed.

According to Captain Burns, the next trip to Fort Washington will probably be February 10, returning to Washington, Sunday, February 11.

NEGOTIATIONS ON FOR ANOTHER DEBATE

May Debate Washington and Jefferson and Pittsburgh, Says Coach Morehouse

Negotiations are now being made by Coach Morehouse, of the G. W. debating team, with Washington and Jefferson College, Pa., and the University of Pittsburgh, and it is possible that both schools will be debated on consecutive nights with the same team. The G. W. debating season will close with a debate with Catholic University.

"Each of these schools," said Mr. Morehouse, "will send their team on a tour, and it is probable that they will include Georgetown on this year's schedule, so that if we debate them, it will be after they have debated Georgetown, and will give us an idea of the comparative debating strength of the two schools."

"Washington and Jefferson, and Pittsburgh both state that they are interested in the question of universal military training, and provided negotiations can be successfully made for a suitable wording of the question, it may be possible to have one team represent G. W. on two consecutive nights against both schools, using the same speeches, or very nearly so, against each. This will give us an excellent chance to retrieve ourselves for the Pittsburgh defeat of last year, and to add another scalp to our debate belt. Of course it's only a chance, but it can be improved."

As the Hatchet editors do not know as much about their studies as they thought they did, there will be no issue next week. They will have to "bone" too.

TO TESTIFY BEFORE SENATE MILITARY COMMITTEE

Thursday, January 25—This afternoon a delegation from George Washington consisting of W. S. Hance, jr., editor, Rhessa M. Norris, Council, W. H. Stayton, Council, and William Wilbur, is to meet before the Senate Military Committee to testify as to the University's stand regarding preparedness.

Letters received from prominent officials in the Hatchet's campaign last year will be taken along. It will be remembered that Chairman Chamberlain, before whom this delegation will meet, also wrote a letter commending the University's stand.

TRACK ENTRY BLANKS BEING DISTRIBUTED

Robert Eller in Charge of Squad—G. W. To Race Carlisle—Penn Puts G. W. in Class 13

Thursday, January 25, noon—It was announced by Howard Scott of the Track team, that G. W. would run C. U. in the Georgetown meet. Georgetown is going to enter in the South Atlantic two-mile relay and it is possible that G. W. will do likewise.

Entry blanks for the G. W. meet are now being distributed among the leading institutions of the East. The G. W. mile quartet has been matched up with the famous Carlisle Indians as a feature in the G. W. meet. In the Georgetown meet two weeks earlier the G. W. relay will probably meet Gallaudet or Catholic University.

Dr. Robert Eller, former Georgetown hurdler, and the man who handled the recent police meet, is now in charge of the track candidates who are working out daily in the "Y" gym in preparation for the indoor season, which starts in less than four weeks. Indications are now that G. W. will have entrants for all the regular events.

G. W. in Penn Class 13

The Penn relay classification recently published puts G. W. in class 13 with Delaware, Maryland State, Gallaudet, Washington, Ursinus, Villanova, Lebanon, Valley, Juniata, Susquehanna, Albright, and Trenton School of Industrial Arts. In spite of the strong opposition sure to be furnished by Maryland State, G. W. track men feel confident of being able to place in this class.

The competitions are as follows: Fifty-yard dash, scholastic; 50-yard dash, novice 50-yard dash, open handicap; 880-yard run, scholastic; 880-yard run, open handicap; 600-yard run, novice; pole vault, open handicap; 440-yard run, scholastic; 440-yard run, open handicap; mile run, open handicap; 440-yard run, S. A. I. A. A.; pole vault, S. A. I. A. A.; two-mile run, S. A. I. A. A.; running high jump, open handicap.

QUARTET WANTED TO SING AT G. W. GAMES

It has been expressed by many students attending the G. W. basketball games, that it would be a good plan to have a quartet sing popular airs between the halves.

Medical School students boast of two such quartets, one composed of seniors and the other composed of freshmen. The senior quartet contains the following: Messrs. Groesbeck, Miller, Dowling and Connor, with Messrs. Schoenfeld, Beck and Zerbe as substitutes. The singers on the freshman quartet are Messrs. Hayes, Lewis, Daisy and Decker.

CHANCE FOR STUDENT POETS

The Stratford Company, publishers, of Boston, are preparing an Anthology of the best poetry written by American College Students during the present academic year. All poems submitted for publication, therein, must be sent in before May 15, 1917, to the Editorial Dept., Stratford Company.

UNIQUE DOUBLE BILL BREAKS ALL RECORDS

G. W. Quint Loses To G. U. by 31 To 24. Girls Win By 30 To 20 Score

DAVIS AND ELKINS TOMORROW NIGHT

Giacomo Stars For G. W.—Miss Emma Reh is Star of G. W.—Holton Arms Contest—1,000 See Double-Header

By HOWARD SCOTT

The most unique double bill for basketball ever booked in the District, drew a record crowd at the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday night, when the varsity lost to Georgetown in the last few minutes of play by 31 to 24, and the girls' team won from Holton Arms by a 30 to 20 score. The crowd was so large that the referee had to make a special announcement for those on the floor to keep beyond the foul line. It is estimated that over 1,000 persons were present. This is the first time that any girls' team has ever played on the "Y" floor. Music was furnished by a section of the Student Band under the leadership of David Davis. The whole band would have been assembled had Mr. Davis been given sufficient notice. The rousing cheers, under the leadership of Eugene Underwood, spoke appreciation enough for the band's selections. When the team meets Davis and Elkins tomorrow night at the "Y," the whole band will be present to render popular airs. The game will be called at 8 o'clock sharp.

Game Very Close

The G. U. game was remarkable for its closeness. For the first 35 minutes there was never a time when more than three points separated the two quintets, and during the greater part of that period the tossing of a goal from the floor placed the team making it in the lead. The final count was 31 to 24 in favor of Georgetown, altho G. W. strove until the very last minute by rushing in fresh substitutes to nose out their opponents. The deadly accuracy of Fees, G. U.'s free goal tosser, offset G. W.'s floor game and made the contest a seesaw struggle from whistle to gong. Taking the lead in the last half on superior floor work, G. W. seemed destined to win, when Almon and Giacomo were removed. The substitutes lacked the team-play displayed by the regulars and put more work on the guards, who being drawn out of position, allowed Georgetown a couple of easy goals just before the bell rang. This tied the score in field goals with seven credited to each, Georgetown's margin of seven points being on the free point scored.

Long Shots Resorted To

G. W. resorted to longer shots than usual this game, with uniform success. Giacomo proved adept at these and made four successful ones, several being of the sensational variety. The long shots and numerous fouls were the results of intensive guarding which tended to make the game interesting to spectators. Twenty-three fouls were charged to Georgetown and 21 to G. W.

Capt. Groesbeck not only played his usual splendid game, but deserves a lot of credit for doing a very commendable thing in connection with an injury to one of Georgetown's players. Fees was compelled to take "time out" to leave the floor to wash the blood off his face. Groesbeck's team was only two points behind at the time, and it looked as if one point might decide the contest. However, he refused the possibility of scoring that point thru the medium

NO PICTURES TAKEN AFTER FEBRUARY FIRST

The managers of the Cherry Tree are pleased with the success of their individual picture campaign. They brought the price down to 10 cents with the hope of getting every student in the University represented in the book and are well satisfied with results, so far, and before the last day, February 1, hope that those who have delayed will get down to Harris & Ewing's and be snapped. All students wishing group pictures can leave their order at the Cherry Tree office or with Editor Burton. These are being offered mounted for one dollar.

Men wishing to be candidates for editor or business manager next year should see the present management.

AQUATIC SPORT MEETS STUDENT APPROVAL

G. W. Swimmers Favor Hatchet Proposal—Howard Stewart To Coach

The proposal brought up before the Student Council, by the Hatchet, for the formation of a swimming team has met with the approval of those interested in that sport. Already 12 men have signified their intentions, personally, of joining a squad or were vouched for by their friends. Howard Stewart, of this city, and a South Atlantic champion swimmer, will take over the coach's duties as soon as the project is sanctioned by the Faculty Committee on Student Activities.

Expense Only Drawback

The only drawback to such a team is the expense attached to it. Mr. Stewart is of the opinion, however, that such a sport can be self-supporting. Negotiations are now being made for the use of a local high school pool.

R. Bartle Miller, manager of last year's team, is glad to see the organization of such a team taken up in earnest and is of the same opinion as Mr. Stewart regarding expenses.

"I sincerely hope," said Mr. Miller, "that better results may be had this year than I had last year. I believe the students will give more assistance."

Those who want to join the swimming squad are: Jack Zerbe, J. Lenovitz, Ellason, Cannon, Kluge, C. King, Hirst Hayes, Paul Vestal, Herman Levey, T. C. Thompson, Henry Ravenel, H. Ward and R. B. Miller.

ATHLETIC TICKETS ADMIT TO FIVE GAMES

According to a statement given out by Howard W. Hodgkins, graduate manager of athletics, athletic association tickets will admit holders to the Ursinus and Eastern College games. It is probable that the tickets will also admit to the Catholic University Gallaudet and Georgetown games. If the tickets do not admit direct, it is expected that free passes will be given out.

PLANS BEING DISCUSSED FOR LAW SCHOOL BANQUET

The Law School councilmen are now making plans for the annual Law School banquet to which always a number of public officials are invited. Altho nothing definite has been decided, it is rumored that steps are being taken to make this year's event "something new" and to be in accord with the Hatchet's campaign for a "greater G. W."

ENGINEERS SELLING BANQUET TICKETS

The tickets for the annual banquet of the Engineering Society are now on sale at $2.00 each. Persons wishing to purchase tickets may see any of the following: J. Lenovitz, A. Biggs, W. S. James, or Leslie W. Teller.

GROESBECK ELECTED SENIOR MARSHAL

D. H. Cannon and John S. Bixler, Assistants

BIGGS AND LYONS COUNCILMEN

Returns Extremely Close—Law School Solid Behind Cannon—Groesbeck Carries Medical School

Bertram Groesbeck got the largest vote, with D. H. Cannon and John S. Bixler next in order, in the election for senior marshals, and Z. A. Biggs and John L. Lyons won positions on the Student Council from Engineering College and Medical School respectively by a close margin according to the count made by the election committee of the Student Council in secret session last Wednesday evening, in the A. & S. Department. Bertram Groesbeck, with the largest total votes, 71, necessarily gets the senior marshal's position, while D. H. Cannon, with 68, and John S. Bixler, with 62, are the assistants.

Engineers' Vote Low

The lowest percentage of voters was found in the Engineering College. Z. A. Biggs beat J. L. Lenovitz out for the Council by 10 votes. Mr. Lenovitz held the lead until the last few ballots were opened and they happened to be solid for Mr. Biggs. The election committee composed of W. S. Hance, jr., chairman, (assuming position due to the candidacy of Elmer Kayser for senior marshal), H. D. Shapiro, Miss Martha McGrew and Elmer Kayser, met shortly after 3 o'clock Wednesday and behind locked doors assorted the ballots and checked the result for each candidate. The eligibility of each voter was looked into by referring to the University catalog and data compiled by the Hatchet. Only five votes were invalid, and they did not affect the results.

Elections A Success

The voting in all the departments surpassed any previous held elections. About fifty per cent of the total number of voters voted.

Tully C. Garner came fourth in the race for marshal, with 47 votes. Then

KEEN COMPETITION AMONG LAW GLASSES

Law School Fund Jumps $800 in Three Days—Officials Pleased

The Law School is now using 13 thermometers, instead of three, in registering the total contributions by the students, alumni, faculty and trustees and each has taken a decided rise in the three days, with a total increase of $785.

No personal solicitations were made for the subscriptions. The class committees which were to take over that part of the work have not been appointed yet.

In first announcing the new method of raising the funds, Dean Fraser said:

"The sacrifices of the students will probably impress the alumni." "Let this sentiment continue," said Secretary Van Vleck, "and sweep over the alumni, and the necessary $100,000 Law School Building is assured."

The trustees' thermometer, which has a "boiling point" of $10,000, now stands at $5,325. The faculty's thermometer with a high mark of $5,000, has the "mercury" at $3,895. Each of the class thermometers, which has $1,000 as the "boiling point" stands as follows: Class of '11, $920; '12, $530; '13, $790; '14, $425; '15, $240; '16, $315; '17, $390; '18, $375; '19, $60. The grand total is now $34,100.00.

The class of '18 has appointed its committee, which is composed of G. L. Hall, E. C. Taylor, Max Rhoads, D. Davidson and E. W. Dieserud.

A Record Night

The united action of the Student Council and the Faculty Committee on Student Activities, taken recently for a greater G. W., the object which the Hatchet has been working for, was given added impetus at the games last Saturday night. This night might well be termed a record night. It has been hailed through local sports as the feature game of the basketball season and it should be remembered that it was held under G. W. management. Over 1,000 spectators, who packed the gallery and floor clear out to the foul lines, were treated to a double header which is the first of its kind ever staged in the city.

In the last two home games, with G. W.'s greatest rivals namely C. U. and G. U., a slight change in points could have made either two victories or two defeats, but Fate has decreed G. W. should triumph over one and bow to the other. Three more home games remain, Davis and Elkins College of West Virginia being met next Saturday evening, and Temple University of Pennsylvania and University of Tennessee will visit here in February. These teams come from afar and only could be scheduled thru heavy guarantees for their traveling expenses. Their records show them as capable to represent their respective states and worthy opponents for G. W.

The G. W. girls' basketball team is handicapped like the varsity team, thru a lack of a gym of their own, to practice only a restricted period on certain evenings. Yet they are this season, as in the past, working for "old G. W." And so we find the football, track and tennis teams combating only with the strongest, and not content to gain idle triumph over weaker opponents. Right now there should be a rallying of students and alumni around the G. W. banner to give support in future athletic contests for "The Greater G. W." movement has started toward its goal.

The Football Schedule

With a schedule of ten games, five of which will be played in the city and three within easy reach, next year's season should be one of great interest to the followers of the grid-iron sport.

Next year the work will be increased with a game against the Navy. The student body will have the opportunity of seeing the G. W. aggregation face one of the best teams in the country in the Navy game.

Graduate Manager Hodgkins and his assistants should be highly congratulated on the arrangement of the schedule and the selections of the games for next year's football eleven.

Percy's "Wild Night"

Dear Joe:

I had one wild night last week. First, I went to the girl's house, who by the way is on the girls' basketball team. Her father came to the door, and a gruff old man was he. He let me in, after finding out who my ancestors were, and when she and I were talking together in the parlor (I put the lights out so as to save her old man some money) he came in and said right out that he did not like me, because I showed a lack of industry in my calling. She took up for me, however, and told her dad that he was mistaken, for I called six nights a week. We left the house and took a train for downtown. We got off at Fifteenth and the Avenue. She proposed walking thru the park and Speedway, but it was so dark you couldn't see your hand, before your face so I refused. I told her we might get lost. Instead we walked down the Avenue and were met time and again by men who said "Taxi? Want a taxi?" Believe me, Joe, I didn't know there were so many for sale. It seemed an odd time of day to sell them too. I told her we could have gone to Keith's—but we were too far away then and besides the twenty-five cent seats were all sold out. We went to Cosmos and took the upper box. We saw the whole show thru even the posters of what was coming next year. After the show we went to the Willard for some food, Child's having closed up. The man who took our coats said if we had been five minutes later we couldn't have gotten in there either. I wished then that I had waited thru intermission again. The expense was considerable: Fare, $.20; dinner, $.70; theatre, $.30, which total $1.20. What made our dinner so high was the fact that we both got ice cream with our coffee. After we were back home I glanced at her clock and saw it was after 12. I told her I promised her mother I would leave before 12 whereby she answered I still had eleven hours, but I kept my promise. PERCY.

Nothing Continued

By GAD

"Maneater" McDuff was some student. His handle was derived from the fact that he was a shark in all his studies. But as an athlete he was a good mathematician. He did not resemble the usual type of heroes in physique. Nay, he rather appeared to be an excellent model for a macaroni factory. But Rosie adored him because—well, he was the only fellow that her pet poodle wouldn't snap at. This poodle was presented to Rosie by a girl friend (the mean thing). McDuff would never have given her a poodle. He was used to giving pointers to his classmates. McDuff's rivals had tried various means of getting rid of "Pups" without hurting Rosie's feelings, but so far the cute little thing had foiled all of their efforts. He refused to be canned, even by Armour & Co. (To be continued.)

NICKS!

In one of the classes the girls were looking at a picture, but stopped when the professor suggested that the boys might enjoy it more. Puzzle: What kind of a picture was it?

There must be some mistake when the students refer to the week of January 29 as the coming holidays.

If absence makes the heart grow fonder, why not stay away from classes we do not enjoy?

Does the sorority catalog system include fingerprints for identification?

TALK TO A POLICEMAN AND BECOME POPULAR

One should never talk to a policeman in a public place if he does not wish Dame Rumor to begin her publicity campaign. A policeman went to Dean Hodgkins' room last Monday evening, followed by hundreds of inquisitive glances, and when he came out and took a stand by the door and began talking to an Engineering student in earnest conversation questions arose:

"Have the boys been gambling?"

"Is the house pinched?"

"What's he done?"

"Probably been borrowing somebody's auto."

All these surmises were wrong. The gentleman had his own auto borrowed and the person forgot to return it. The policeman was given a general description of the machine.

CHI OMEGA LOSES TO SIGMA TEAM

The Chi Omega basketball team lost to the Sigma team of the basketball league by an 8 to 4 score.

The line-up of the Chi Omega team is as follows: Forwards, Misses Gertrude Walter and Emma Reh; Centers, Misses Edith Swartwout and Margaret Bristow; Guards, Misses Elizabeth Davis and Charlotte Stimpson.

University Calendar

G. W. Quint plays Davis & Elkins at the "Y" tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. All members of the G. W. band are urged to be present with their instruments.

The Menorah Society will have its picture taken at Harris & Ewing's, Sunday, February 4, 11:15 a. m.

Annual banquet of the Columbian Debating Society will be held on February 17, at the Dewey Hotel.

NO "STICK" IN THE PUNCH, IS CORNELL RULING

G. W. Fraternities Barred Liquor Voluntarily Years Ago

The G. W. fraternities, which have long barred the use of liquor in punches served at their social functions, are now learning with surprise that the fraternal organizations at Cornell have to remove the "stick" by compulsion.

The use of intoxicating liquors at local fraternal functions is a thing of the past. There isn't even any beer served at smokers. When such drinks were served sentiment was so marked against it, that it was discouraged without faculty action.

There exists here a sort of "gentlemen's agreement" that no alcoholic liquors shall be served at functions to which women are invited.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS ON ARCHITECTURAL LIBRARY

We quote the editorial, "Helping the Student," which was published in the last issue of The American Architect magazine:

"We are informed that the Washington Chapter of the American Institute of Architects has turned over its library to the Department of Architecture of George Washington University and that the gift was made good by an additional donation of $200 for further purchases. There is every reason to commend co-operation of this sort. A chapter of the Institute has not much use for a library of its own, unless a comprehensive collecting and of lending books be established. In fact, in localities in which the resources of an architectural library are not already available, such an arrangement might be found distinctly advisable. In Washington, however, the chapter saw a greater duty in contributing both its books and its funds towards the encouragement of growing minds in preparation for the profession, and no nobler purpose can be found for the ambitions of any professional body than that of making the uphill road of the apprentice easier by improvement of the available equipment for study."

... If all chapters of the Institute were to set themselves this ideal of definite helpfulness, and realize the ideal to the extent of an annual appropriation toward the purchase of books for the school or atelier of architecture in their cities or districts or states, a world of good would be accomplished toward the advance of architectural teaching, toward the rise of public taste and appreciation, and toward the elevation of the profession. The example of Washington chapter of the Institute is significant in this respect."

COLUMBIAN BANQUET
TO BE FEBRUARY 17

The Columbian Debating Society has decided to hold its annual banquet on February 17, at the Dewey Hotel. Unlike former years, ladies will be welcome at this year's function. The next meeting of the Society has been scheduled for February 9.

This honor guests at the banquet will be Dean Fraser and Dean William Allen Wilbur.

Last Friday the Society debated "Resolved, That an embargo should be placed on all cereal food exports by the United States until after the present war." The negative side won. Messrs. Kemp and West won first and second honors respectively.

GROESBECK ELECTED SENIOR MARSHAL

following in order were Elmer Kayser, 45, Perry M. Johnson, 42, and W. S. James, 28.

The Law and Medical Schools both stood solidly behind their candidates whereas the A. & S. Department vote was scattered.

John L. Lyons beat Ralph S. Pendexter out for Medical Councilman by 19 votes.

The result of the election far surpassed all expectations by the election committee and the councilmen. The election committee considers it a fair demonstration of the success of such a system being used in the future for the election of marshals and members on the Student Council.

ARCHITECTURAL CLUB GIVES DANCE PARTY

The second dancing party of this season, under the auspices of the G. W. Architectural Club, was given last Wednesday evening at the Potomac Boat Club.

The dance programs were printed on van-dyke paper, from original design by Beverly H. Harris, and tied with brown silken cords to match. The party was chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. A. L. Harris, while Jack Newlon's orchestra played the latest musical hits. The men in charge were W. W. Taylor, J. J. Carey and L. L. Browne.

INTERFRATERNITY ASSOCIATION DISCUSSES SCHOLARSHIPS

The Interfraternity Association met at the Sigma Phi Epsilon House on Thursday, January 18, and discussed plans for raising the scholarship of fraternity men. It was proposed that delegates to the Association be chosen from the men who maintain a high scholarship standing in the University.

Announcements were made of the Interfraternity Bowling League schedule for the year, and the date of the Interfraternity Dance, April 20, 1917, at Rauscher's; and a resolution was passed requesting the local papers to refrain from using the abbreviation "frat" for fraternity, when speaking of college fraternities.

The next meeting of the Association will be held at the Theta Delta Chi House on February 13.

PRIZES FOR PRISON ESSAYS

The national committee on prisons, thru the courtesy of Adolph Lewisohn, is offering three prizes for theses or essays on phases of the prison problem. The prizes are arranged as follows: For master's thesis, prize of $50.00; undergraduate essay, $25.00. The judges will be Prof. C. Ebert, Columbia University, Dr. H. H. Meetings of Society, Addresses, Inspection Trips and Banquet

In a recent letter sent to every student registered in the College of Engineering, a tentative program of the Engineering Society was outlined as follows:

of an attempt for a goal from a foul line to which his team was entitled.

Roger Hillis Applauded

Roger Hillis, who scored one goal from field, was loudly applauded on making it from such a difficult position. Hillis has been doing exceptionally good work at guard and has received much praise in the daily sporting columns.

Patterson, who did not share in the scoring, played his best game of the year. He had been anxious to get in the "mix" with the blue and gray quint and as one rooter exclaimed—"he was all over the floor."

The large number of spectators was shown what real cheering was like. The G. W. rooters, under the leadership of Eugene Underwood, gave a series of yells for the players individually which kept up the fighting spirit in the men.

Band For Tomorrow Night

The musicians who signified their intentions to be present tomorrow night are: Larry Burton, David Davis, Maurice Hermark, LeRoy Gordon, Fred Reed, Wm. T. Tonne, George Ruch, Carl Raist, Ramon France and Albert Menzel.

Many notables in basketball from other cities were present; for prior to the game a meeting was held of the basketball rules committee for this section, and practically everybody present at that meeting watched the game.

Summary of Game:

G. W.	Position	Georgetown

GIRLS' TEAM WINS

The girls' game with Holton Arms was the opening bill and surely served to hold the attention of the crowded house. The G. W. six outplayed their opponents by a 30 to 20 score. It was a treat that very few Washingtonians had ever enjoyed. The staging of the two games together showed the people how the two teams differ in the manner of play.

The commendable feature of this contest was the playing of Miss Theodosia Seibold, who got out of her sick bed to be with her team on that unparalleled night. Only her friends in the audience knew of this plucky action on her part.

Miss Margaret Bristow, who was just recovering from a minor operation, was not allowed to play. Miss Elizabeth Davis filled her place as right guard and played an exceptionally fast game.

Miss Reh Stars

Miss Emma Reh was the individual star of the game, caging nine goals from the floor, all of which were from difficult angles. Miss Seibold made five.

The whole audience was thrown in an uproar when Miss Loyzelle Callahan succeeded in upsetting a number of spectators upon herself and the Holton Arms side center. In a wild dive for the ball which had taken an unlucky bounce over the foul line. Miss Callahan's speedy play attracted special attention among the rooters. Miss Gardner and Miss C. Simpson far outshone their opponents in the same positions.

The Summary:

G. W.	Position	Holton Arms

HENRY GRATTAN DOYLE TRANSLATES LENTEN DRAMA

Lenten plays in Boston are generally of no particular interest to George Washington University, but during the coming Lent a Lenten drama, "The Slopes of Calvary," will be produced twice a week in Boston, and should attract the attention of the students of the University, because it was translated from the Italian by Henry Grattan Doyle, A. M., instructor in Romance Languages.

The play was written by Dr. A. Palmieri, an Italian by birth and an Augustinian monk, who is one of the famous scholars of the present day. Dr. Palmieri is one of the greatest authorities on Russian and Greek theology, and the Slavic languages.
